Facebook is a social networking system which allows members to generate a profile, submit pictures, post information and keep in touch with friends and family. There is absolutely no cost to sign up for Facebook and members must be at least 13 years of age. There is no maximum age for Facebook members. Members are able to create pages for their business, organization as well as fan pages.

Facebook has developed into a very popular place to showcase a business, web page, services and products and also yourself. There are roughly half a billion Facebook users and that's more than a substantial audience for anybody. Facebook marketing has become an additional strategy for internet marketers to make use of to promote and market a small business, service or product.

The first step in Facebook marketing is to create your profile. Your user profile allows others to work together with you on a personal level. If it is a business, others may feel like it is really a local business even if it is halfway around the world. Always add a picture to your profile. Visitors want to know there is a real person guiding the business. That offers the business warmth as well as character and a shot of personality.

Ensure your wall contains solely appropriate material. Be well intentioned when you post anything or comment on another person , post and only publish things which are related to your own subject material. Remember that anything you post and send away into cyberspace these days, will stay there permanently.

In the information portion of your Facebook page is where the real Facebook marketing occurs. Note your business web address and proper business contact. For those who have a brick and mortar shop as well, put in the address so folks in your neighborhood can visit.

When advertising for your business, always note that you can be found on Facebook. If you have a business website, add your Facebook hyperlink. If you market in print media, include your Facebook name so that others can look you up on Facebook.

Encourage your Facebook supporters by awarding them with badges and commendations. Possibly post a quiz once in a while and the first one to post the right response receives a special badge.

Facebook marketing is all about getting your information in front of the largest amount of people as possible. The greater number of friends you've got, the more friends of friends will see your information or remark and opt to become Facebook friends.
